Rain on Main is back! Local artists are again invited to paint a rain barrel for this unique program. The painted barrels will be on display along Main Street in the Carmel Arts & Design District the week of August 13-20 including the August Gallery Walk. Rain Barrel Instructions

- Barrels have been sanded and primed by Tom Wood Collision of Carmel.
- The barrel can be painted with any acrylic paint.
- Artwork does not need to have an environmental theme. However, avoid designs of a political, religious or sexual nature. Do not use any copyrighted content or any logos. We have also noticed that designs that feature faces (human or mystical) and words (aside from very common short phrases - Island Time theme) typically do not perform well in the auction. You are welcome to sign your barrel.
- The paint on the rain barrels takes much longer to dry than typical artist mediums. Avoid heavy layering of paint and thick areas, it results in the paint peeling up. Allow for extended drying time.
- When your barrel is fully dried (at least 48 hours), apply at least two coats of protectant (provided). Be sure to let the barrel fully dry between coats (24 hours).
- Barrel painting should be complete no later than July 16th to allow a week for drying and protectant coat applications (with full dry between).
- Once your barrel is painted, coated, and DRY, return your barrel, in the original box, to the pick-up location anytime Monday through Friday 8 - 4:30 pm.

Completed barrels are due back to Carmel Street Department Office by July 23rd.
